Acknowledgements

Appreciation is extended to all family members that contributed to this book. Special recognition to the late Lorene Weick, without whose generosity this would have been an insignificant effort. Just as important to providing photographs was her amazing ability to accurately recall names and faces, dates and locations, times and relationships. The editors deeply regret she was not here to enjoy the final result.

The Bibles and photo albums of sisters Bernice Weide and Norma Jeane Kanel were most helpful. The willingness to share collections by cousins Charlotte Scoby, Jo Ann Tennal and Marcia Wikle added greatly to the completeness of this work. Several photographs were obtained from Raymond Randolph, Ruth Ann Lundgren, Dean Hopkins, Linda Lehman, Kim Weide and Lee Weide as well as from both editors.

Numerous relatives helped proof the text which accompanies the photographs. Thanks to all who thoughtfully encouraged the editors and patiently awaited the conclusion.

Technical Details

The majority of photographs in this book are flat-bed scans of original prints, negatives and slides. Photographs were adjusted, cleaned, repaired and cropped via Adobe Photoshop CS3 on an Intel-base Apple iMac.

Photograph naming convention is as follows: nnn-year-mm.jpg, where nnn is a unique three digit number, year is the four digit year and mm is the two digit month in the year that the scan was made.

All photographs were scanned as 8-bit jpg.

Preface

This collection of photographs chronicles the families of William Raymond Randolph (Ray) and Mary Emma Sophia Schriefer (Randolph) (Emma) in some semblance of order to enable following generations to appreciate, understand and visualize relationships. It is the culmination of nearly eight years of effort, often delayed or interrupted for varying periods of time, but never abandoned. The compilation is mostly the result of others' efforts to capture family members on film over their lifetime. Grateful appreciation is extended to the owners of such pictorial records, owners by their own efforts or by inheritance.

The format of the book relates individuals represented on film to Ray and Emma Randolph. They represent those who came before and perpetuated the Randolph family. Attempts were frequently made to define and list those relationships. Family Trees are available as separate inserts, with copies available from the editors. To enhance understanding relationships, it is suggested the Family Trees be studied before perusing the book, and be referenced periodically during its use.

Families are not static, but constantly change, adapt and evolve. The little ones keep arriving as if by some predetermined schedule, while others reluctantly leave the scene and are missed. Tears are shed and memories linger. In a project such as this, a line of termination must necessarily be drawn, arbitrarily and debatable. For this book, it was established as the year 2000. Few, if any, photos afterward have been included.

Extra efforts were made to prevent errors and misinformation. Such success is not always absolute, so if mistakes are found, the editors offer their sincere apologies and accept full responsibility.

William Charles Weide and Kenneth Duane Weide, May 2008, rural Crete, Nebraska.

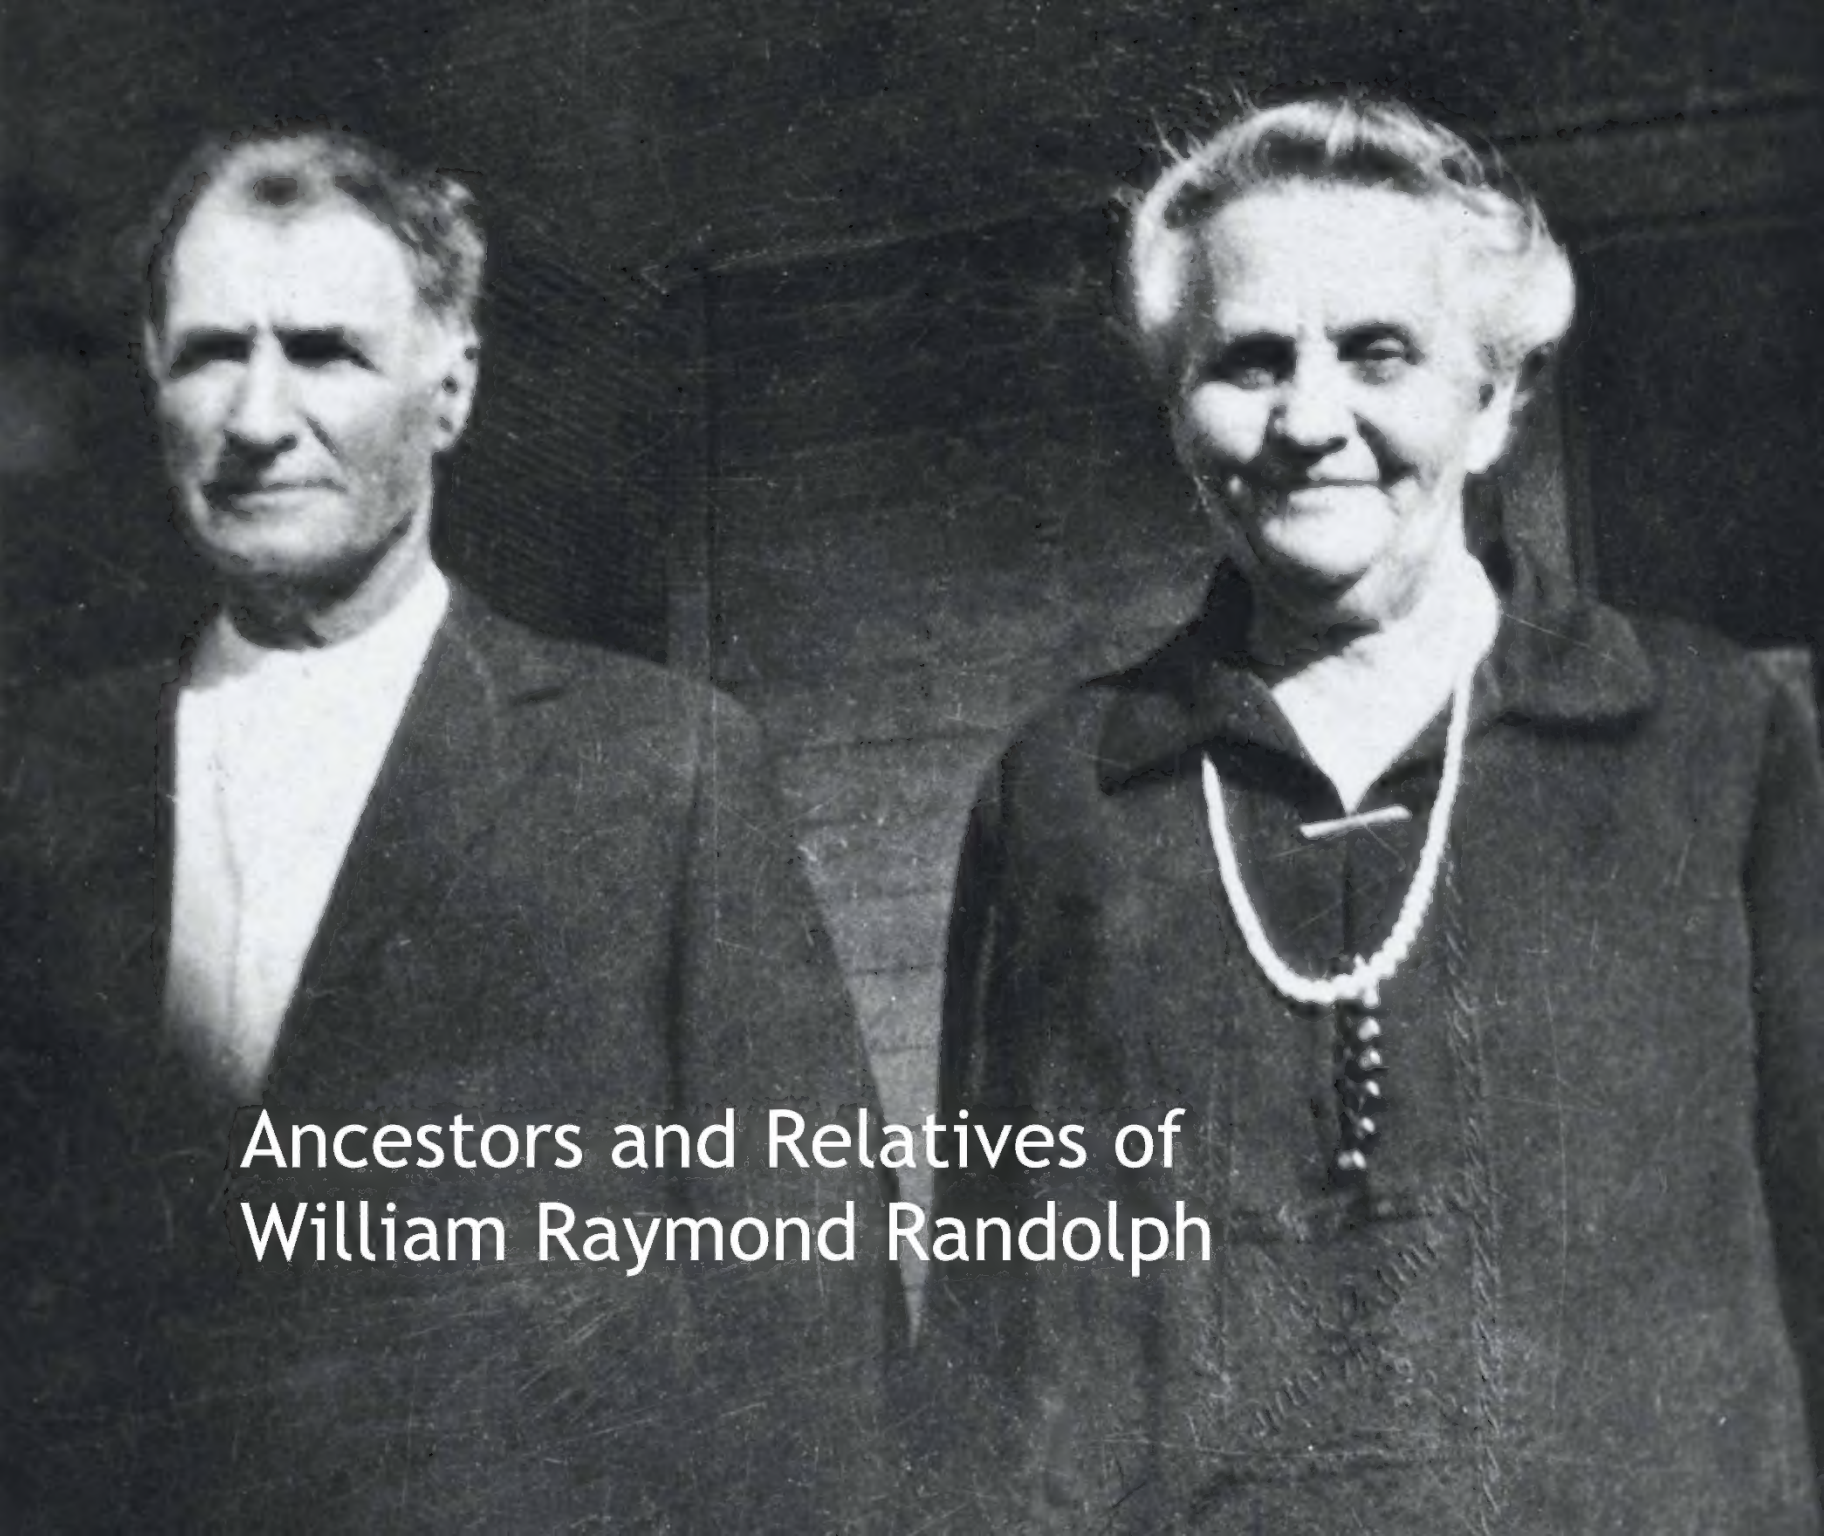

Ancestors of William Raymond Randolph (Ray) originated from England, Scotland and Ireland. They emigrated to the United States in the early 19th century, before 1850, settling in New Jersey, Ohio, and Indiana.

Families were large. Charles Summer Randolph (Grandpop) had five sisters (Laura, Belle, Hattie, Marian, and Ella) and four brothers (Eugene, Grant, Mead, and William). Mary Indiana Webb (Randolph) had only two brothers, one of which died in infancy. She had at least twenty-one aunts and uncles from both sides of her family. They in turn had at least sixty-eight children, all her first cousins.

Grandpop was a staunch Republican and mostly anti-government, lacking appreciation for politics and often railing against government interference in everyday life. Mary Indiana was described by most as a "difficult" person and easy not to like or appreciate. When she died Grandpop inherited from the Webb side of her family (William Morton Webb) 240 acres of farmland east of Severance, Kansas, and a house (212 Maple Street) in Leona, Kansas. He died in an extremely cold January, 1940. She died in 1929, the same year as her daughter Edith Randolph (Mailler) and her granddaughter Violet Mailler. -KDW

William Raymond Randolph (Ray), later known as "Gramp", "Grandpa Ray", or "Pop Randolph", centered his life around the railroad, which was at it's zenith during his working days.

In 1903, a year after graduation from Severance, Kansas High School, he was employed by the Saint Joseph and Grand Island Railway as a section hand, maintaining the rails and roadbed. He completed fifty-one years before retiring from the Union Pacific Railroad in 1954. Impressing his Section Boss, he was sent to telegraphy school in Chillicothe, Missouri. In April of 1904 he was made Night Telegrapher at Severance, Kansas, and a year later transferred to Herkimer, Kansas, where he served as Station Agent for four years. Then Station Agent in Glenvil, Nebraska for a year and to Leona, Kansas for then next twenty-seven years. He was made Station Agent in Morrill, Kansas August 1, 1938, serving sixteen years until retirement.

For brief periods during those years, he assisted as telegraph operator in Seneca, Kansas, Sabetha, Kansas, Severance, Kansas, and Robinson, Kansas. Over the years he became a master telegrapher, receiving and transmitting, using Morse Code for communication. His pocket watch was always out when a train passed or a whistle heard, just checking the time wherever he was or whatever his stage of life. And he counted the cars as he waited for a train to pass. Life-long habits. -KDW

The ancestors of Mary Emma Sophia Schriefer (Randolph), "Grandma", were all German, originating from Germany or adjacent areas which spoke German, and one time or another were part of Germany proper, the vicissitudes of changing governments.

She was always known as "Emma". Her mother's family (Rose Josephine Stoehr [pronounced "star"] (Schriefer) emigrated to the United States prior to 1850, settling in Illinois, where Rose was born. She was one of twelve children; two died in infancy. Emma's father, Johann Gerhardt Heinrich Schriefer, was born in Germany and came to the United States with his brother, W.A. Frederick Schriefer, in the late 1800's.

They had a sister, Sophia Schriefer (Hafer), that stayed in Germany. Both brothers were blacksmiths, Grandpa Henry in Herkimer, Kansas, Uncle Fred in Auburn, Nebraska. Grandma Randolph had four sisters: Flora Anna Martha Schriefer (Hopkins), Elizabeth Magdelene Sophia Schriefer (Blaser), Mary Josephine Schriefer (Koppes) and Elenora Rosalie Schriefer (Shroyer), and one brother, Henry Frederick Schriefer.

Uncle Fred provided five cousins: Catherine Frieda Schriefer (DeBrunner), Anna Mae Schriefer (Huddart), Laura Engle Schriefer (Rogge), Matilda Maclay Schriefer, and Gertrude Lois Schriefer.

All eleven cousins were in a similar age group. Grandma Randolph's father's blacksmith shop was on the main street, west side of the single-block business district of Herkimer, Kansas. In later years, but while all the children were still home, the family moved to a farm southwest of Herkimer, south side of old Highway 36. -KDW

Mary Emma Sophia Schriefer (Randolph) was always known in the family as "Mom" or "Grandma Randolph". To others she was known as Emma. She was not very tall, the shortest of her five siblings, and in later years a bit on the plump side. She was a jolly and fun person with a ready laugh that was somewhat of a "cackle". Flowers were her avocation, scattered throughout the house in winter and adjacent to the house and Gramp's vegetable garden in warmer months. Only on rare occasions in the home was she found without her handmade apron and outside she had a trademark sun bonnet, also handmade.

She never learned to drive a car and seldom ventured from the residence, except to visit her family which she readily enjoyed. Gramp visited the grocery store, usually on Saturdays, shopping from a detailed list and strict verbal instructions. Her grandchildren were a great joy to her and she was a ready "sitter" on frequent occasions. One always felt welcome in her home. She was an excellent cook, producing in volumes for family gatherings.

Until her health began to decline, Christmas was always at her home with all the traditional fare and all the family present. She had two specialties: Raisin Pie and Fried Catfish. Raisin pie, usually several, was always the main dessert and was the very favorite of Gramp. Plus, she could fry catfish like no other, complete with catfish gravy for mashed potatoes. Since Gramp was an avid fisherman, she had plenty of practice over the years. As her health deteriorated, she never lost her sense of humor, happy and enjoying a good joke, especially on herself. A story, if a bit on the shady side, would provoke an extended laugh (cackle). Her three son-in-laws were often the source. -KDW

Gramp and Grandma had an extended honeymoon trip in July of 1909. Traveling by rail, they made numerous stops including Denver, Colorado, Pike's Peak in Colorado, Salt Lake City, Utah, the Great Salt Lake in Utah, San Francisco, California, Seattle, Washington and the adjacent Naval Base. A railroad pass good throughout the United States was a great facilitator.

They made their first home in Glenvil, Nebraska, living there for a little more than one year. Their first child, Bernice Josephine Randolph (Weide), was born in May of 1910. Their next move was to Leona, Kansas, where Gramp was Station Agent for the railroad for the next 27 years. Their remaining family were born in Leona; Edith Lorene Randolph (Weick), Raymond Henry Randolph and Norma Jeane Randolph (Kanel).

Gramp was an early amateur photographer, using a small bellows "Kodak", and developing his own film, all black and white in those days. Many photographs were taken by Grandma. Most of the film processing and printing was done in the family living room after dark, while the family waited patiently without light.

He had two principal hobbies, gardening and fishing. Both were family ventures in that Gramp raised and harvested the vegetables while Grandma processed and canned. Gramp caught and cleaned the fish while Grandma fixed and did the cooking. It may have been a disproportionate partnership.

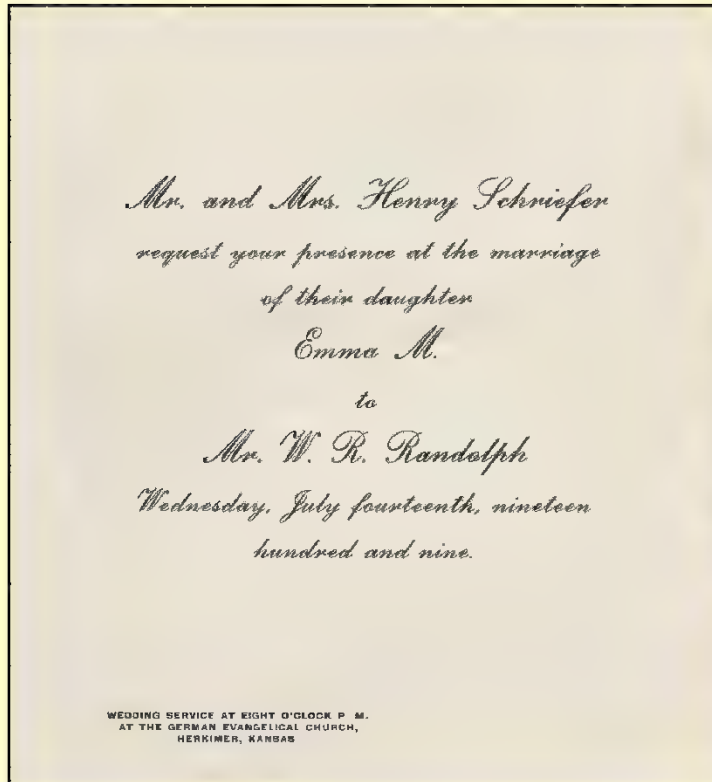

Gramp was quiet, reserved and very patient. Grandma was chatty, funny and caring. They made a good team. -KDW

For many years while residing in Leona, Kansas, a motorcycle was the local means of transportation for the family of William Raymond Randolph and Mary Emma Sophia Schriefer (Randolph). The railroad provided travel for longer distances. The Saint Joseph and Grand Island Railroad (later to become part of the Union Pacific Railroad) began in Saint Joseph, Missouri and ran through small towns in Kansas and Nebraska ending in central Nebraska where it connected with other lines. Many of these towns were significant to the Randolph extended family. All at the time had depots for travel and freight, as well as providing a telegraph service, many 24 hours a day. The U.S. Mail traveled by rail. Automobile roads were of little significance until the late 1930's, and became of importance after World War II (1945).

Gramp's relatives were centered around Severance, Kansas and Grandma's family near Herkimer, Kansas. Both were on the Saint Joseph and Grand Island railline. As the families grew, other towns became more important to them, but most were located on the same railroad. Thus, transportation and communication were relatively easy. People tended to stay home year around and long trips were a rarity.

At one time Gramp had the Harley-Davidson motorcycle agency for Leona, Kansas, a supplement to his income needed for a growing family. Leona was a thriving community with, among other things, a bank, elevator, two restaurants, two grocery stores, a butcher shop, drug store, dry goods store, hardware, freight line and later several garages and gasoline stations. The railroad was the uniting unit and common thread for the entire town. It was in this environment that the Randolph family thrived, developed and prepared itself for life's challenges. -KDW

Bernice Josephine Randolph (Weide), eldest child of William Raymond Randolph and Mary Emma Sophia Schriefer (Randolph), grew up in Leona, Kansas, graduating from Leona High School in the Spring of 1927. She was a member of the high school basketball team and a champion speller, scoring first place in Doniphan County and placing eleventh in the entire state of Kansas. She completed two years of study and graduated from the Grand Island Business College, Grand Island, Nebraska.

When telephone service first came to Leona, she assisted Ida Bracken, a life long family friend, in establishing and operating the telephone office. Service was provided 24 hours a day, and all switching, transfers and long distance connections were done manually. The office was located in a room in the Bracken home, southeast corner of Cherry and Maple streets.

She was always called Bernice, and had red hair which darkened over the years, flecked with white and finally all white. Jobs were scarce during the Great Depression years, and she supplemented family income with many odd jobs while living at home. For a while she was a care giver in the home of A. O. Delaney, owner and president of the Farmers Bank of Leona. She married Vertis Charles Homer Weide at the Brown County Court House in Hiawatha, Kansas, June 2, 1932. -KDW

The honeymoon of Bernice Josephine Randolph (Weide) and Vertis ("Vert") Charles Homer Weide was five days in the Missouri Ozarks via a new Ford Model A Roadster. Total expenses were less than $16.00, including gas, lodging and food. On return they found Vert no longer had a job as a hired man on a local farm. The Great Depression affected everyone. Thereafter he had several different jobs, finally as the janitor of the Leona schools. Their only child, Kenneth Duane Weide, was born at the Horton, Kansas hospital though they lived in Leona, Kansas.

When the Sunflower Cooperative Creamery opened in nearby Everest, Kansas, Vert was the first employee hired and was sent to butter maker school at Kansas State College in Manhattan, Kansas. In 1940, the family moved to Topeka, Kansas where Vert made butter for Jensen's Creamery. They had three residences in Topeka, an apartment at 224 Topeka Boulevard, a rental home at 616 Jewell, and their own home at 206 Kendall. In February of 1951, they moved to their farm a half mile south and a mile east of Bern, Kansas, where they lived the remainder of their lives. Vert farmed and raised mostly swine.

Bernice worked at various jobs prior to her marriage, was a homemaker for 20 years, and returned to the work force at the Perkin's Grocery Store and later the Bern Lumberyard. Kenneth ("Kenny", "Ken") graduated from Topeka High School and Kansas State University. He married Thelma Faye Yung (Weide) on Sunday, August 12, 1956, in Halstead, Kansas. She was born on her grandfather's homestead near Kinsley, Kansas, and graduated from Halstead High School and Kansas State University. Three children, Kim Christine Weide, William Charles Weide and Lee Randolph Weide, and the three grandchildren followed. -KDW

Edith Lorene Randolph (Weick) was born at the family home in Leona, Kansas, April 20, 1916, the second child of Mary Emma Sophia Schriefer (Randolph) and William Raymond Randolph. She graduated from Leona High School in 1934 and married Roy Clarence Weick at their minister's home in Hiawatha, Kansas, August 15, 1935.

She was a homemaker a large part of her life, working for the Sabetha Schools in later years. The following was excerpted from her obituary (The Sabetha Herald, Sabetha, Kansas) following her death at the age of 91 years, 11 months and 7 days:

"Lorene was the first school secretary to work in the present elementary school, which opened in 1958. She was the school secretary there for more than 16 years and touched many lives and made many friends ..... Until her health failed, she had an acute mind and unfailing memory of her days growing up in Leona and life in Sabetha. She was known for her wonderful humor, positive attitude, and many, many wonderful meals shared around Roy and Lorene's table. She loved her family, her friends, her home, her flowers, and the many, many birds that visited her back yard. She will be missed."

Edith Lorene Randolph (Weick) was raised in Leona, Kansas. Roy Clarence Weick was born and raised on a farm near Barada, Nebraska. Their first home together was the first house north of the Leona Public Schools on Maple Street. Later they made their home on Cherry Street in the house where Lorene was born and raised. Roy was employed as custodian for the Leona Schools. While living in Leona, Galen LeRoy Weick was born in the hospital in Highland, Kansas in 1941.

They moved to Sabetha, Kansas in 1943 where Roy was employed for many years by the Nemaha Cooperative Creamery. Their daughter, Sharlotte Ann Weick (Scoby), was born in 1946. Roy was head custodian at the Sabetha High School when he died suddenly from a heart attack on November 09, 1982. Lorene and Roy were quiet and compatible people. Neither got too excited very often, about anything. Roy in particular was slow and methodical. Each had their own characteristic and unique laugh, which they employed frequently. They were good people. -KDW

Raymond Henry Randolph was born and raised in Leona, Kansas, and graduated from Leona High School in 1937. The only son of William Raymond Randolph and Mary Emma Sophia Schriefer (Randolph), he attended Kansas State College for two years. He was not very tall (like his mother), blond, muscular and handsome.

Growing up he was an avid outdoorsman. His speciality was squirrel hunting. The story is often told of him leaving home with three rounds of .22 caliber ammunition and returning from the woods with three squirrels. His favorite hunting area was the woods along the Wolf River, south of Leona, Kansas. He fished with his father in Wolf River, and later the creeks and lakes in Nemaha and Brown counties, Kansas. One of the editors of this book (KDW) frequently went rabbit hunting with him and always returned very successful.

He worked at the Nemaha Cooperative Creamery in Sabetha, Kansas, for many years and later hauled milk from area dairy farmers to the creamery for processing. He invested in area farm land over the years and enjoyed both crop and cattle production. With his son-in-law, Eugene Raymond Herrmann, he also invested in earthmoving equipment and together they built many local waterways, terraces and retention dams, a part of multiple soil conservation efforts. They built the dam and reservoir creating Sabetha Pony Creek Lake. -KDW

Raymond Henry Randolph and Verda Jean McKinnie (Randolph) were married in Wichita, Kansas, where he was employed at Cessna Aircraft. He had moved with his parents from Leona, Kansas to Morrill, Kansas, in 1938, a year after graduating from high school. He completed 2 years at Kansas State College.

As World War II approached, he moved to Wichita and was soon joined by his new bride. He was a final inspector on an aircraft production line until joining the United States Navy, late in the war. As the need for men increased, he probably would have been drafted into the Army Infantry, which definitely was not his preference. His wife spent part of the war with her parents in Morrill, Kansas, and as much as possible with Raymond after he was stationed in Norman, Oklahoma.

Their first daughter, Cherlyn Rae Randolph (Herrmann), was born in 1945 a few days after the end of World War II. Their second daughter, Jeanna Kay Randolph, was born in 1956 in Sabetha, Kansas. Verda Jean was raised on a farm at the west edge of Morrill, Kansas. She graduated from Morrill High School. She was a local beauty queen, chosen as the Queen of the Harvest Festival, held each fall in Hiawatha, Kansas. She and Raymond were devoted parents, especially to the youngest daughter who was physically challenged. -KDW

Norma Jeane Randolph (Kanel) was born in the family home in Leona, Kansas, in 1925. She attended public schools in numerous Kansas communities, as her dad (William Raymond Randolph) served the railroad as telegrapher and Station Agent. These included Leona, Seneca and Severance, ending with graduation from Morrill High School, in 1943.

She was my (KDW) aunt, less than eight years my senior, so we seemed more like first cousins. Our friendship lasted a lifetime. She was always tall, long legs and thin. My first memory was Christmas dinner and gift exchange while they lived in Seneca, Kansas. We stayed overnight and we always seemed to walk the railroad tracks. Once when they lived in Severance, we, along with a girlfriend of hers, walked the tracks from the depot East out of town, and over the bridge that crossed a small creek. I was afraid to cross, stepping on each railroad tie. The depot is now gone as is the bridge, the rails and the ties, but the creek remains. The placement of railroad ties was always such as to be too close for regular steps, and too far apart by skipping every other one. It was difficult to walk balanced on the rails, although that was her preference. She sometimes went fishing with her dad and me, and that was always great fun.

After she married, she would take me fishing on Walnut Creek, just northeast of the intersection of Highway 36 and the Hamlin-Powhattan road. One of her friends had and played the xylophone and we visited for a private performance. Norma Jeane played the piano. Many times we ventured throughout Morrill with her best friend, Virginia Buckley (Howerton) whose mother ran the telephone office. And of course we walked the tracks. -KDW

Norma Jeane Randolph (Kanel) and Bernard Dale Kanel were married in a private ceremony at the Church of the Brethren, Morrill, Kansas, on January 29, 1944. It was a sunny but cold winter day. The family had gathered at the Randolph family home, 305 West Roxanna, and as the newlyweds returned from the church, Bernard parked their 1938 blue two-door Ford at the curb in front of the house. He instructed me (KDW) to watch the car carefully out the front window for any unusual activity. I did. I watched as friends and relatives decorated with paper, wrote in soap and tied several strings of tin cans to the rear bumper. Their short honeymoon was to Saint Joseph, Missouri, staying in the Robidoux Hotel, the city's finest. War rationing was strict and gasoline, oil and tires difficult to obtain.

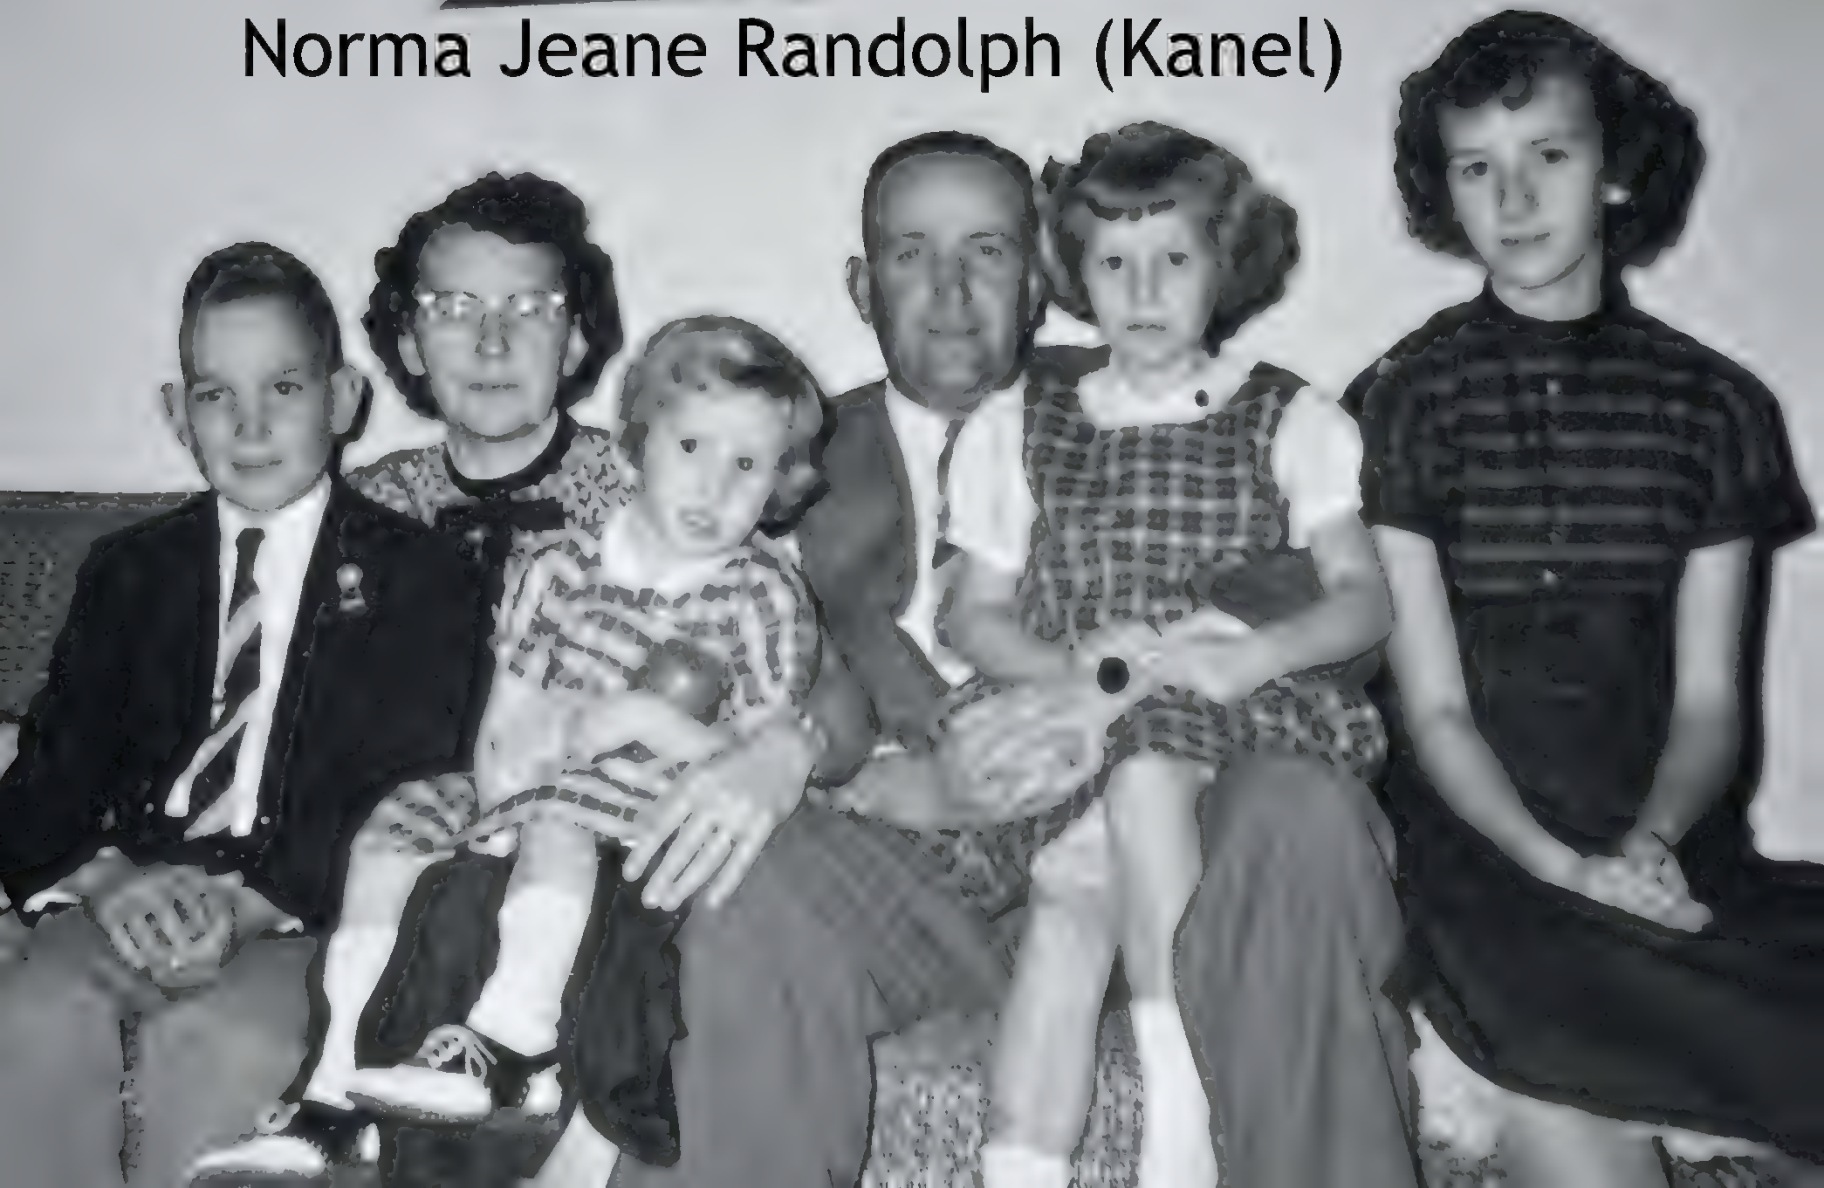

They moved directly into their farm home southeast of Morrill (2721 Falcon Road) where they lived for 47 years, and she an additional ten. Norma Jeane had a wood burning stove on which to cook and a "pot belly" stove in the living room for heat. They burned cut firewood, wood scraps of all kinds, corn cobs and an occasional lump of coal. They slept downstairs during the winter months, which at the time were much more severe than today. The house had very little weather-proofing.

Bernard began farming with two teams of horses (and a riding pony named "Betty") and two John Deere tractors. One was a multiple speed Model B on rubber, and the other a Model D with lugs, two speeds forward and one speed reverse. A luxury in those days was a Massey Harris combine with a five foot header, a canvas and wooden belt to transport the cut grain and operated with power take-off from the Model D. Both tractors required manual turning of the fly-wheel to start. They were off to a good start.

Family gatherings were much more common prior to the development of modern transport, ready communication, the influence of television and the natural scattering of family members as they grew and prospered. Christmas, Thanksgiving, Easter and the Fourth of July were the common times to gather the family, usually at "Grandma's and Grandpa's" home. The holidays were often split between various grandparents, facilitated by close geography.

Prior to World War II, railroad and motorcycle were the major modes of transportation, especially for the Randolph family. Beginning in the mid-1930's, automobiles were available at reasonable cost. Unfortunately records and photographs of many early family gatherings have been lost, and few of us remain with memories of these great times. -KDW

Attempts were made to accumulate photographs of the ancestors, descendants and relatives of Ray Randolph and Emma Schriefer Randolph. The number of photos available increased as the family tree progressed. Individual relationships to Ray and Emma are provided. The purpose of the eight-year effort was to furnish a single source for understanding and recognition of these interrelationships, especially for later generations and those yet to come.
